I. Kecoughtan Corridor Study

Regina Blair and Ted Sawruk are professors of architecture at Hampton University. The University recently received the Historically Black College and Universities Grant to get involved in community planning, revitalization, and housing & development in Hampton. The Kecoughtan Corridor was mentioned in the grant proposal, but when the consultants began working on the same area, HU backed off from that particular project. They want to work with the community and are willing to work on whatever the community feels is the highest priority. Regina can be reached at 727-5021 and Ted can be reached at 727-5440.
